Horrible Tragedy.

COL. W. R. D. WARD, OF MARSHALL, TEXAS, ASSASSINATED AND ROBBED OF TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS BY TWO HIGHWAYMEN.

Editors of the Sentinel:—You will confer a favor on the numerous relatives and friends of the late Col. Ward, by giving publicity to the enclosed obituary of the deceased, and the following condensed facts, which I have gleaned from a file of Texas papers now before me; which are all filled with excited telegrams, letters, editorials, etc., in relation to the atrocious murder, and the public and private life of the deceased.

Col. Ward was born and raised in Warren county, N. C., and was the only brother of your highly esteemed friend, Dr. S. G. Ward, of this county. Inspired by patriotism and an enthusiastic devotion to the principle of man's inalienable rights to self-government, Col. Ward, with his noble-hearted uncle, the late Maj. Gen. T. J. Green, flew to Texas, as soon as its inhabitants unfurled the banner of independence, and there battled for her cause, until the "Lone Star," in brilliancy, took a conspicuous place in the galaxy of nations. After which, he and his brother in-law, Judge Atkins, located and planned the city of Marshall, in Harrison county, Texas, which now contains a population 10,000 inhabitants; and through which the Atlantic and Pacific R. R., now runs. His genius conceived the practicability and importance of this gigantic project; and his popularity, judgment, and indefatigable energy, obtained from the Texas Legislature its charter-ed rights of way to El Paso, with the most munificent grants of land. He had the road under contract, long before the Hon. Robt. J. Walker, Gen. Butterfield, and their associates, obtained a similar charter from the State of New York, for said purpose. He lived long enough to realize the fulfilment of his most sanguine visions of a beautiful and flourishing city, crowded with residences, stores, Churches, seminaries, and two colleges, springing up as by magic from the then hunting grounds of the Caddo Indians, and to behold trains laden with the rich products of the Red River valley, dashing through Marshall, from Tyler to Shreveport, in Louisiana;—over which route, three or four yoke of oxen had to labor hard to haul four bales of cotton, owing to the miry condition of the soil, during winter and spring.

On the 1st. day of this month, he left Marshall, on the Southern train, and passed the night in Henderson, Rusk county, with $10,000 for the purpose of purchasing cotton, in which article he had been extensively dealing for a number of years past.—The next morning he hired a carriage to go through the surrounding country, in company with a Mr. Ely, and when they had proceeded about 10 miles on the Nacogdoches road, and in a deep valley far from any habitation, they were overtaken by one Willis Poe, 23 years old, and a citizen of Rusk county, respectably connected, who instantly shot Mr. Ely twice through the lungs, which caused him to fall out, when the blood-thirsty assassin demanded his money—to which Mr. E. replied that it was all in the carriage. Col. Ward, being entirely unarmed, in consequence of the stringency of martial law, and seeing a man approaching in the distance, laid whip to the horses, but when he met the other party he proved to be Harrison Robinson, the accomplice of Poe, who came up by this time, drew aside the curtain and shot Col. Ward through the heart, killing him instantly! They then secured the money in the carriage, supposed to be in gold, and as much as they could well carry off, and therefore failed to search his person on which there was concealed in a belt $1,200 in currency. They then returned to complete the butchery of Mr. Ely, but he had crawled into the bushes and secreted himself effectually from their search.

Soon after, a neighbor, whom he knew, was passing, and Mr. E. hailed him, stated the above named facts, and who the highway robbers were. That neighbor carried him to his house and kindly cared for him, but he died in a few days thereafter.

The electric wires from Shreveport, La., to Tyler, Texas, announced the shocking tragedy, and many citizens, from each and every town and hamlet on the railroad and telegraphic lines, where Col. Ward, as the first President of said road, was so much beloved and highly appreciated, hastened to scour the country, in every direction, for the inhuman fiends who were making post haste for the Indian nation. On the 5th. day after the murder, they were overhauled by a scouting party at a house on Big Cypress, in Hopkins county, where they had retired for the night, for the purpose of resting their overjaded horses. Poe ran out with a pistol in each hand, and was instantly fired upon and mortally wounded and captured, by his enraged pursuers, before he could flee. Robinson went out at a back door in his night clothes, and made his escape on foot in the dark, but was vigilantly pursued by other parties from Smith county, who came up opportunely, and it is thought that he will be soon apprehended. So state the latest advices. Only a small portion of the money was recovered. The remains of Col. Ward were deposited in the Marshall Cemetery, and followed by the excited citizens, overwhelmed with grief, while every residence, store and shop was closed in the city. P. H. J.

TRIBUTE OF RESPECT TO COL. W. R. D. WARD.

Col. R. W. Loughery:

SIR:—The painful intelligence of the death of Col. W. R. D. Ward, by assassination in Rusk, county, a few days ago, has just reached me.

Col. Ward was an old esteemed friend of mine, which elicits from me this tribute to his memory. I learn that the whole community is convulsed on account of his cruel and untimely end, and I am of the opinion that the death of but few old citizens, under similar circumstances, would have had so profound an effect upon the people of Marshall and Harrison county. Col. Ward was in the city of Marshall as a standing relic of the early settlement of Harrison county, and identified with the builders up of our beautiful and pleasant town. He was one of the few, who remain, that has labored hard to make Marshall what it is. He has been regarded as the model of indefatigable industry and perseverance. In public life Col. Ward was thoroughly imbued with the love of Constitutional liberty, and was patriotic almost to a fault. Stern and inflexible in what his own judgment taught him to be right, he was not only patriotic in theory, but his time, money, and talents (which were of no ordinary cast) were devotedly subjected to his country's good.—But few men of his age in this county manifested the same self-sacrificing devotion in the protection of our homes and families in the late war as did Col. Ward; for while many were flying before the enemy and many more preparing to fly, by due haste in packing up their goods and chattles, Col. Ward and Judge Lane, who had as much to lose as any one, promptly shouldered their rifles and repaired to the front of our army and reported to the commanding officer in the front rank, notwithstanding they were both exempt from military duty by old age and official station, when Gen. Banks and his army threatened to invade this part of Texas. The writer was there and saw them on the ground between Pleasant Hill and Alexandria, clad in full armor and eager for the fray. Who else, similarly situated, went from this county to meet the foe and sacrifice life, if need be, in defence of home and friends? These stern, old patriots were not only "brave men in peaceable times," but brave in the teeth of danger. To such, then, let all honor be given.

The writer of this poor tribute to the memory of a worthy citizen, has been long and intimately acquainted with Col. Ward; he has seen and associated with him in private and public life, and while some would pretend to see faults, he could but honor and admire.

The vicissitudes of fortune hid, during Col. Ward's long residence in Texas, placed him in many spheres of action. He has been honored with public as well as private confidence; as a merchant, he was punctual and honest in all his dealings; as an officer, in charge of public trusts, he was scrupulously prompt in the discharge of the duties devolving upon him; as a private citizen, his affability and politeness made him an agreeable and instructive companion. He scorned an unworthy act, and what was an exception to the general rule, he never spoke disparagingly of his neighbors. He was a friend to the poor, for the objects of public or private charity never appealed to him in vain; his high sense of the duties he owed to society and his fellow-men opened his purse to the extent of his ability. He was exemplary in morals and social virtues, never yielding to temptations of intemperance, but maintained his high position in society, let the surroundings be as they might In the untimely and cruel death of Col. W. R. D. Ward, we have a cause to be sad, the poor have lost a friend, the community a worthy and esteemed member, society a main prop, and the State a noble and patriotic citizen. Peace to his remains.

The Bankrupt Act.

We have been requested to publish the Bankrupt Law. This is impossible. It makes a respectable volume. In order, however, that our readers may understand it, and may therefore not be liable to be imposed upon by parties, who are indifferent to the interests of others, we have taken some pains to compile from several sources the following general principles of the Act, for the benefit of all who contemplate seeking its benefits. But first of all, we advise our friends not to determine hastily what they will do, until they have had the counsel of a respectable and intelligent Attorney, upon whom they can rely.

1. The manifest design of the Bankrupt Law is to benefit honest, but unfortunate, debtors, whose just liabilities are greater than they can pay.

2. To become a voluntary bankrupt under this Act, the debtor must owe at least $300, which, of course, he is not able to pay in full.

3. Petitioners under the Bankrupt Act are required to render a schedule of all their debts and liabilities, of every kind and description whatever, and also an inventory of all their estate, both real and personal, including all property and effects of which they are possessed, or in which they may have an interest, (though not in possession) in conformity with certain "Forms" prescribed in the "General Orders" of the Supreme Court of the United States. These schedules, verified by the oath of the petitioner before a District Court Judge, Register in Bankruptcy, or U. S. Commissioner, must accompany the petition, and, when filed, is the commencement of proceedings in Bankruptcy. If it should be found out, pending the proceedings at any time before the bankrupt is discharged, that he has, by any shift or subterfuge, made a false or partial schedule, this would be evidence of fraud and would defeat his discharge.

4. When the petition is by a firm or copartnership, a full set of schedules of the respective estates of the members of the firm should also be added.

5. When the petition is filed, the case is immediately referred to a Register, who examines the petition and schedules annexed thereto, and if they are correct in form, makes a certificate to that effect, to be filed with the Clerk, then adjudges the debtor a Bankrupt and issues a warrant to the messenger to summon all the creditors named in the petitioner's schedules to meet at the Register's office, at a certain time and place, to prove their claims and elect one or more Assignees to take charge of the Bankrupt's estate.

6. A creditor can, however, prove his claim at any time previous to the last dividend, which will generally be a month or more subsequent to the adjudication of Bankruptcy.

7. No creditor has any standing in a Bankrupt Court until he proves his claim.

8. Creditors have no right to compel the Bankrupt to answer questions concerning the disposal of property or him acquired subsequent to being a petition in Bankruptcy. In other words, the date of the filing of the petition by or against a debtor, is the date at which, if adjudications of bankruptcy follow, the old order of things passes away and a new leaf is turned over." On this point decisions have been variant. The safe rule appears to be, that the applicant in bankruptcy has a perfect right to claim whatever he has made after his application, by his personal exertions, but any profits he may have made from investment or credit, may be liable to the claim of the receiver up to almost the period of his discharge.

9. The Bankrupt can apply to the Court at any time after the expiration of six months, and within one year from the adjudication, for the discharge of bankruptcy, and in case no assets come into the hands of the assignee, or no debts be proved against his estate, at any time after the expiration of sixty days.

10. As soon as an Assignee is elected or appointed, the Judge or Register will convey to him, by deed of assignment, all the bankrupt's property except what is exempted, viz: Household and kitchen furniture and other necessaries not exceeding in value ($500) five hundred dollars, also his wearing apparel and that of his wife and children, and such other property not included in the foregoings is exempt from levy and sale upon execution or other process by the laws of the State in which the bankrupt resides, to an amount not exceeding that allowed by State exemption laws in force in 1867. A safe "General" for suggestion, under this head, that the common impression that persons may become bankrupts and yet be allowed to retain their homes and lands, or other property of considerable value, is a great mistake. Under the Act, no honest Bankrupt in this state can have allotted to him free from the operation of the Act, exceeding $700, besides the wearing apparel of himself and family. Bankrupts in this State are not entitled to homesteads under this Act.

11. It is the duty of the assignee, within twenty days after the assignment to him is made to allot to the bankrupt such articles as are exempted, and file an inventory of the same, with the value of each article so allotted, and creditors may make objections to the report of the Assignee at any time within twenty days after it is filed.

12. As to costs in bankruptcy proceedings, section fifty of the Bankrupt Act provides that the petitioner, before a warrant issues, shall deposit fifty dollars with the Register, or with the Clerk, to be delivered to the Register as a security for his fees. General order XXIX provides that the fees of the register, Marshal and Clerk shall be prepaid or secured before they can be compelled to act. It is also provided by General order XXX, that where the debtor has no means, and can prove the fact to the satisfaction of the Court, upon application an order will be made requiring all the costs in the case to be paid out of the fifty dollars deposited with the Register. If, however, there are assets, but not enough to pay the Messenger after deducting the Bankrupt's exempted property, so that nothing comes into the hands of the Assignee, the fees will have to be paid by the Bankrupt; but if the Assignee receives assets, the fees of the Messenger will be paid by him before any dividend is made among creditors.

13. Some suppose that the Register is entitled to $10 fee. The fees of the Register, Messenger, Clerk, and costs of publication of notices in Bankruptcy, are fixed by law, and if they be deemed higher fees, they are liable, as in other cases of malfeasance in office. In ordinary cases of Bankruptcy, the fees may amount to $100. In some cases more, in some less—the costs depending on the amount of labor and litigation involved in each case.

14. Differences of opinion among Attorneys have existed in this State, as to the limit which the Act makes as to the time to make application in Bankruptcy, none have supposed that no debt or will be permitted to apply for Bankruptcy after some early day in March, unless he is able to pay fifty per cent of his debts. We are assured that this is not the case. The law did not go into operation for the purposes for which it was enacted until June 1st, 1867. It gives twelve months from that time, to all honest debtors, whatever may be the extent of their indebtedness which they cannot pay in which to prevent their applications. After the 1st of June next, every debtor must be able to pay fifty per cent of his indebtedness, in order to a successful application in bankruptcy, unless he first obtain the consent of a majority of his creditors.

IMMIGRATION.

The Radicals have talked much, without rhyme or reason, about the large influx of capital and population which will come into this State, just so soon as it is reconstructed under Radical rule. They speak and look as wisely on this subject as inspired seers, as if there were any facts to justify their declarations.

A favorite idea of the Radicals, in the late Convention, was the establishment of a Bureau of Statistics and Immigration, with a salaried officer stationed in New York, to induce the roving and surplus population of the North and of Europe to come to North Carolina. The Radicals among the colored population of this State were opposed to that measure and defeated it. It is plain that the blacks of North Carolina are universally hostile to bringing into the State any large additions to the working people of the State, and their potency in the Radical party of the South will enable them to defeat any legislative action which tends directly to bring foreign white labor into competition with the black labor of the South.

The termination of the war left the debris and the hangers on and followers of the Federal army in the South. A few of this portion of our present population, both Yankee and foreign, have proven themselves to be quiet, industrious citizens and have put their energies into requisition to improve their own condition and to aid in the recuperation of the country. But so far as the greater portion of them are concerned, who have essayed to control public affairs, and who are known all over the State for their thirst for office and an immodest forcing of themselves upon the public for place and position, the locusts of Egypt were never more destructive to its fields, than these office-seeking carpet-bag interlopers have been, and will be, to North Carolina.

We have no prejudice against any man, on account of the place of his birth. We estimate every man according to his conduct, his character, his real worth to society. There are Northern men and foreigners among us whom we esteem as our best citizens, and we rejoice to see settling among us men of character, industry and enterprise, who show by their conduct and associations that they seek the good of the State and of our people, as well as their own. But men who pride themselves upon their cuteness, their demagoguery, their smartness in controlling elections, whose language and moral characters are a blight upon society, and whose sole aim is office and money making, at the risk of the ruin of the people, we have no use for. They are a moral stench, which no honeyed words of friendship or pretences of interest in our people can neutralize. Such is the character of many of the Northern men in the State, who have forced themselves into office and misled and inveigled the blacks into their support.

The black population form the great body of field laborers in the South. They are inured to the climate, and, under instructors and governors, are well adapted to the cultivation of the soil and the production of cotton, tobacco, rice and sugar. If these people, now that they have been made freedmen, show themselves capable of control and improvement in their new relations, and are willing to be encouraged and trained to systematic and skilled labor in agricultural pursuits, especially, we are anxious that they should be aided and assisted in the work. In a word, if the colored population of the South can be made to answer the purposes of agricultural improvement and the recuperation of the country, and thereby promote their own well-being in all respects, we are in favor of promoting that object in every prudent way. We are not in favor, if this can be done, of displacing the colored population by foreign white laborers. But if the blacks, infatuated by the new regime, shall claim to be the governors and office-holders of the State, instead of its mere laborers, the sooner immigration associations and effective systems for the introduction of the right kind of foreign labor can be adopted, the better.

The soil of the South is its chief source of support and wealth. It must be cultivated, either by the blacks and whites among us, or by the whites or blacks alone. To develope the agricultural resources of the South great changes and improvements must be effected in the manner and character of its cultivation. Large plantations, with long rows of negro quarters, with from 20 to 500 colored laborers to be taught, governed and provided for, must give place to small farms, with small neat cottages and suitable provision for laborers, and for the comfort of stock, &c., with from one to ten employees. To these must be added, at convenient points, churches and school houses, separate for blacks and whites.

Laying then the foundation of industry and enterprise deep in the morality and christianity of the Word of God, in the cultivation of good manners and refinement, and in the proper regard to the claims and duties of society and of all classes, we may hope once more for a prosperous and happy country, but not otherwise. The fanaticism of the equality of all men, of the equality of the blacks and whites, so thoroughly incorporated in the new Constitution, is the worm at the root of Jonah's gourd, which must forever nip all our prospects, be the barrier to all improvement, the promoter of discord and embroilment of the races, and result in continued agitation and the ultimate extinction of one or the other of the races. The Anglo Saxon race never has, in the history of civilization, yielded to the control of the black or mongrel races, and never will. History, virtue, truth, peace and quiet and prosperity demand for North America the white man's rule and the white man's government. This is our watchword, and to the white men of North Carolina, as well as to thoughtful, sensible, considerate colored men, we commend it, as the shibboleth and talisman of peace and prosperity.

GOV. WORTH.

It is a little remarkable that the name of Gov. Worth has scarcely been mentioned in the late campaign in this State. We never voted for Gov. Worth, but it is due to him to say that he has discharged his duties so faithfully and fairly, that neither party could find good cause for complaint. The fact is Jonathan Worth is an honest man; and although he is an old-line Whig of the strictest sect, while we claim to be nothing but an old-line Democrat of the original panal, we cannot but admire his straightforwardness in acting as the Chief Executive of North Carolina.

We presume that Gov. Worth has but little faith in the ability of the new parties that have sprung up during and since the war, to settle national difficulties, and probably believes that things will never get right until the country sets upon and adopts the principles of the old Whig party, (for the whig party was a party of principle;) while we believe that the rights of the States and the people will never be respected and maintained until the principles of the old Democratic party are engrafted on the policy of the Government—we mean the principles of that party in regard to States Rights, Tariff, Banking and Expenditures by the General Government. The war settled the question against the right of a State to secede and against slavery, but not against the general rights of the separate States.

But it was not to talk about old parties that we commenced this article, (we may have something to say on that subject hereafter,) it was merely to pay what we consider a deserved compliment to Gov. Worth for the faithful manner in which he has discharged his duties as Governor in times of great trial and perplexity. His term of office may soon end, and therefore we do not consider it improper to allude to him at this time as an honest, pure minded public officer. We have received no favors from Gov. Worth, and don't ask or expect any, but as a man who always differed with him in politics, we are disposed to give him ("or any other man") the credit he is entitled to.

No man deserves more the compliment paid him above, by the Charlotte Democrat, than Gov. Worth. North Carolina never had a better Governor. The State possesses no truer citizen, no "nobler Roman," than JONATHAN WORTH, and time alone can fully develope the wisdom and success of his administration, during the critical period he has administered the Executive office. His duties have nearly exhausted and worn out a constitution, which a life of sobriety and integrity and a good conscience had made capable of great endurance. Now, at a ripe age, he is enfeebled, and will rejoice when he can lay aside the cares of office, to seek recuperation in private life and quiet. May Heaven long preserve his valuable life! He is one of the few left among us, whose integrity and virtues connect us with the better days of the past, and such constitute the jewels of the State.

SECRET ORGANIZATIONS.

The spell of a secret organization, and of a solemn oath to obey the orders of the League, have been shown, by the recent election in this State, to be all powerful for evil. The potency of the Leagues was so fully relied upon, that many Radical leaders manifested real indifference to results. If the influence of the Leagues, all over the United States, is as great as in the South, the Republic, itself, is at their mercy. Under the sham of an election, in November next, the people may, as in France, vote nominally for a President and elect an Emperor.

The Northern Democracy seem to be waking up to this and are organizing secret associations to counteract the Leagues, &c. What will Southern Conservatives and Democrats do? Matters are fast verging to an imperial government, which will eventuate in the despotic rule of the one man with unlimited powers. And the fear is that the money-barons of the North will bring all their power to effect it, in order to render their immense wealth secure—Republics being regarded by them as untrustworthy. It is thus that, under the delusive cry of "Liberty, Equality and Fraternity," the people themselves are in imminent danger of voting for the Empire.

GRANT'S POPULARITY.—Chicago may be called the home of Grant and the very head and front (heretofore) of Radicalism. It was chosen for the Radical Convention, because it was believed to be the Gibraltar of the party, and the place of all others which involved the least possibility of doubt. At the election, a few days ago, every influence and appliance were called into active play, in order to continue its prestige of political success, and the most ardent appeals were addressed to the people on behalf of Grant, backed by considerations of State and local pride. Yet Chicago has not only been gloriously redeemed by the choice of the Democratic candidate, but the triumph is made memorable by a gain of many thousands. Elsewhere in Illinois similar facts are witnessed, which indicate the certain overthrow of Radical rule in that State.

POLITICAL ADVENTURERS.—The impudence of the political adventurers from the North and West who are roaming through the Southern States, running for all the offices, from the highest to the lowest, well says the Baltimore Sun, is inconceivable.—What would be thought in Massachusetts or Pennsylvania if some of the freedmen or Radical whites of the South were to go there and insist on being made Congressmen, Legislators, or Governors? Yet this is just what those loafing political lazaroni of the States north of Mason and Dixon's line are doing in the Southern States, through the instrumentality of the untutored freedmen, who are made to believe that in electing these interlopers to office they are exercising the proudest prerogative of freedmen!

THE LATE HON. WM. C. RIVES.

The death of this distinguished statesman and patriot, one of the few remaining links that connected us with the illustrious past, which occurred at his residence in Albemarle on Saturday last, has excited universal regret throughout the State of Virginia. The Richmond Dispatch furnishes an elaborate and eloquent tribute to the eminent deceased, from which we make the following extract:

"Upon his return from the last mission to Europe he retired to private life to carry out a long cherished purpose of preparing a 'History of the Life and Times of James Madison,'—a work rather of love than of labor to one who had enjoyed the confidence, and in many points of character and intellect resembled, the great architect of the Constitution. This work, we fear, has not been completed. One volume had appeared before our disastrous civil conflict, and Mr. Rives was diligently preparing the sequel, when he was called from his retirement to take part in the abortive Peace Conference at Washington, and subsequently to serve in the Confederate Congress both at Montgomery and in Richmond. Though opposed in the commencement to secession, he acquiesced in the decision of his countrymen, and lent all of his mighty powers to sustain the struggling cause. We have often heard his speech on the question of the suspension of the habeas corpus act spoken of as one of the most masterly and eloquent efforts of his life.

"In every station Mr. Rives exhibited pre-eminent ability; and, with habits of patient and systematic application, he continued to advance,

"'Living wisdom with each studious year.'

"As a popular orator, Mr. Rives had few equals. Many of his speeches during the presidential campaigns are still remembered as models of eloquence, dignity, and power. The writer remembers especially his speech in 1844 in advocacy of Mr. Clay's election. In depth and compactness, rising at times to flights of startling eloquence, he believes that it was rarely, if ever, surpassed.

"It rather heightens than detracts from the fame of Mr. Rives that he had not originally a brilliant mind, and that his triumphs and trophies were the result of patient, persevering study and thought. His fame is at once an incentive and a model to the youths of the country—a proof of what industry, constantly stimulated by true ambition, can accomplish.

"In private life, and in all his intercourse with his kind, Mr. Rives was the very mirror of refined and courteous affability.—There was an easy elegance of manner and address which bespoke the kindness of his heart and the true nobility of his soul; whilst his chivalrous bearing made him in public assemblies 'the Rupert of debate,' and in private gave assurance of that keen sense of honor which was ever his animating principle."

RALEIGH AND GASTON RAILROAD.—The Charlotte Times has the following just and handsome notice of the facilities of this Road and its management:

"We had on Saturday a very pleasant visit from Capt. A. B. Andrews, Superintendent of the Raleigh & Gaston Railroad. We are glad to know that this favorite Road is in good condition and doing its business. Those acquainted with the geography of the various lines leading to the Northern cities know that this Road offers advantages that none of its competitors can. Freights loaded at Portsmouth are laid down in Charlotte forty hours after, and the dispatch thus secured is due to the energetic and unswerving efforts of Capt. Andrews and other officers, and the natural advantages the Raleigh and Gaston Road possesses. By this route the distance from Charlotte to Portsmouth is decreased by thirty miles. Through trains from Weldon always await the arrival of the Seaboard trains, and these trains arrive at Raleigh in time to connect with the Freight on the North Carolina Central.

As this road has for the last ten years sustained its reputation as one of the safest and shortest routes for shippers, we have no doubt but our merchants will extend as liberal a share of patronage as it has heretofore enjoyed."

THE PROSPECTS.—The general aspect of affairs is gloomy. Confidence is not likely to be restored, and we fear that immigration—for which we justly expected great benefit—if not entirely driven off, will be greatly retarded. Should negro government be established in the State, with W. W. Holden as Governor, no respectable man will bring his family and capital in. Who, except an office-seeker, would willingly place his wife and children on an equality with the negro. If the State has ratified the Constitution a blow has been struck at the prosperity of North Carolina that will stagger her and retard her recuperation for a long time. The Anglo-American loves freedom—liberty is his watchword and reply, and in the course of time he will burst the fetters that bind him down—but in the meantime we will be plundered, and driven almost to despair. The State has been degraded almost beyond endurance. Her true sons must retrieve it, must wipe it out. The miserable conspirators who have banded together to plunder the people and take the life of the State must be marked. To shun them is not enough, they must be made to feel that the hand of every honest and honorable man is against them. They are criminals—successful criminals—and their booty should not be allowed to protect them.—Char. Times.

Washington sculpture gets this honorable mention in a recent letter from the capital: "The town is full of statues of dwarfs, cripples, rocking-horses, and drunken Indians. Washington, nearly naked, sits out in the rain colossally, pointing to the Patent Office where his breeches are. Lincoln is a base ball pitcher on the top of a column. A pea-green Jefferson, deaf and dumb, is asking alms, with a paper, before the White House. Near by, Gen. Jackson is riding to victory over a landscape of foaming mugs of lager beer. What we want here is more lightning—I mean the more subtle fluid so called—to strike some of these monuments and complete them."

After all the croaking about the Abyssinian expedition, its fruitlessness and the enormous expense it would entail, it has achieved a brilliant success. The imperial barbarian has been vanquished and killed, the English captives all recovered, and the army has not suffered anything like the hardships predicted, and is safely making its way back to the coast.

The Charleston Mercury says: Gen. Hancock seems as likely to get the Democratic nomination as any name mentioned, and availability will determine the man, whether Seymour, Hancock, or Pendleton, either acceptable.

A Washington special to the Boston Journal says: The Democrats have apparently determined to unite on Gen. Hancock as their candidate for President, with a western man as Vice President although some advocate the nomination of Mr. Adams, of Massachusetts.

THURSDAY, APRIL 30, 1868.

THE STATE ELECTION.

ONSLOW.—This county, with a registered white majority of only 77, gives over 400 majority against the carpet bag Constitution, and elects the entire Conservative ticket. Right nobly done!

FRANKLIN.—The official majority in favor of the Black Crook Constitution, in this county, is 156. We learn that the scallawags put upon their county ticket, without authority or consent, the names of five or six gentlemen,—all of whom voted the Conservative ticket.

TYRRELL.—Majority against the Mongrel Constitution 157, and entire Conservative county ticket elected. T. J. Jarvis, Esq., is the member elect of the House of Representatives.

CALDWELL.—This county (official) gives 240 majority against the infamous Constitution. Col. Jas. C. Harper is elected to the House and E. W. Jones, Esq., is probably elected to the Senate from the District of Caldwell, Burke and Watauga, though we have no advices from the latter county. No county in the State is more creditably represented than Caldwell.

GATES.—Majority (official) against the Kowles Konstitution 202, and the entire Conservative county ticket elected, as heretofore announced.

CLEAVELAND.—This county gives only 222 majority against the infamous Constitution. Mr. Ashe leads Holden 253. Capt. Plato Durham is elected to the House of Representatives and the full Conservative county ticket chosen.

ASHE AND SURRY are reported to have gone Conservative by small majorities, Watauga, Yadkin and Alleghany Radical by very small majorities, and Polk, Rutherford and Wilkes Radical by large majorities.

THE LEGISLATURE.—As far as heard from eleven Conservative Senators and thirty seven Conservative members of the House of Representatives have been elected.

B. B.—Our readers have read, we doubt not, with profit and pleasure, the able letters of our excellent Washington correspondent, B. B. We hope to be favored with them throughout the summer. They evince an acquaintance with political matters, a vigor of thought and a loftiness of tone that highly commend them.

THE RADICAL vultures are beginning to swarm Raleigh-wards. Among other arrivals, we notice the pale half of the delegation from Granville—Jno. W. Ragland and R. W. Lassiter. French, of Washington City, has been on hand for several days.—Chicken Gunter and Silas Burns have left. Congleton and Hofler have pressing engagements at home. It is confidently expected that Coffee Mayo will soon be on hand, or he may write an e-pistol.

EDUCATIONAL AND LITERARY.—The annual Sermon before the Senior Class of Wake Forest College, at the approaching Commencement, will be preached by the Rev. W. Hooper, D. D. The address before the Alumni will be delivered by the Rev. A. McDowell, D. D.

The Commencement of Louisburg Female College will take place on the last Thursday in May.

On Tuesday evening of the same week, Rev. Wm. H. Robbitt will preach the annual Sermon.

On Wednesday, Maj. Seaton Gales, of this City, will deliver the Literary Address.—Concert at night.

NEW BOOKS.—Messrs. Williams and Lambeth, Book sellers of this city, have laid on our table the following School books, for watched to us by the publishers, Messrs. A. S. Barnes & Co., New York:

Williams' Readable Dictionary.—This is a volume of nearly 400 pages, in which several thousand words in the language are classified, with brief but appropriate definitions attached. The arrangement appears to be a good one. The words selected pertain to science, morals, &c.

A Summary of English and French History.—This is a very brief compend—too brief to be of any value to young students of history. It may serve very well to revive the recollection of the historical student, as the head lines of a page indicate the subject treated of.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—N. C. Fish on consignment,—No. 1 Shad and Gross, Cut and Roe Herrings: Cowand & Harriss, Commission Merchants, 26 Commerce St., Norfolk.

Hardware, Cutlery, Carriage Materials, House Furnishing Goods, Mill Stones, Gearing, Ornamental Iron Work, &c., &c: Thos. H. Briggs, Fayetteville St., Raleigh.

W. Rob't Andrews, Family Grocer and Provision Dealer, Fayetteville Street, makes a variety of attractive announcements. He has one of the most complete establishments in the South, containing everything that is good, edible and drinkable.

STATE NEWS.

——Gen. Alexander MacRae, of Wilmington, died on Monday last, in that city, after an illness of but a few days. He was in the 73rd year of his age. For a number of years, he was prominently identified with the interests of Wilmington, and had discharged many responsible public trusts.

——The Rads had a grand pow-wow and torch light procession, in Wilmington, on Monday night, in glorification over their recent fraudulent victory. The Journal says:

"William Woods Holden, X P. G., and now nigger Governor elect, dadn't come as expected. Notwithstanding his distressing absence, the Rads seemed jubilant and the night was rendered hideous by prolonged and discordant yells from dusky throats, aided by the voices of some few carpet-baggers and scallawags. Skunk, or Schenck, (either name applicable) headed the procession as Grand Marshal."

——Gen. D. H. Hill was to have delivered a free Lecture at McNeely's Hall, in Salisbury, last night. Subject—"The South and Southern Literature." We should be pleased to hear the General in Raleigh.

——Mr. Boyden's majority for Congress over Daddy Kowles, is upwards of 1,000.

For the Sentinel.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Accident threw in my way the Standard, of April 27th., and I noticed "To all whom it may concern," an offer of free transportation from "Scallawag, Late Carpet Bagger." Since it "concerns" me very much, allow me to answer it through your excellent and wide-spread paper.

To leave my native State, dear old North Carolina, should W. W. Holden ever be elected to her Gubernatorial Chair, has been my resolution of ten years standing.—"Scallawag" takes for granted his election, and offers to her him, on application, on and after the 15th. of June next, to Col. C. L. Harris, free transportation for all of like sentiment to any point in the direction of "Hell or Connecticut." He, being the Chief of the Road to those points, has a perfect right to grant transportation.

However, I cannot avail myself of his kind offer, for myself and family, for two reasons. First, in leaving the State, my principal desire is to be rid of W. W. Holden and his partisans; in going to the former place, I would certainly meet him. Secondly, no disposition to improve my acquaintance with the Nutmeg State animates my soul. Thanks to W. W. Holden, I scorn his kindness. My husband, knowing the mean, groveling, vindictive feelings of the man, and his influence over his colored brethren, considered his election among the might be's, and has already gone in search of a home for his family. Too poor to sacrifice real estate, we cannot leave by the 15th. of June, unless W. W. Holden comes to our rescue.

Can he buy our valuable home in ——? It is for sale. I ask nothing more of His Majesty. LADY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Correspondence of the Baltimore Sun.

SPEECH OF MR. GROESBECK.

WASHINGTON, April 27.

There is but little difference of opinion about the argument of Mr. Groesbeck, of counsel for the President, before the High Court of Impeachment Saturday. Men of all shades of politics agree that it evinced ability of a superior character, and that it will rank with the ablest, clearest, and most logical arguments ever presented to any tribunal. The extreme Radicals—the men most anxious for Mr. Johnson's conviction—the men whose minds are already made up, and who have determined not to be convinced, (and this is not intended to apply to Senators but to gentlemen outside and to members of the House,) all say it was the best argument yet presented for the defence, but they do not attempt to gainsay any of the points presented.

Since the commencement of the trial no man has been listened to with such marked attention, both from Senators and others upon the floor and spectators in the gallery; and this, too, in spite of the fact that it was a great physical labor for him to speak, and that his voice, from bronchial hoarseness, was anything but pleasing to the ear. But after his first sentence the voice was forgotten, and the closest attention was paid to his sound, forcible reasoning.

He was decidedly original in manner, matter, and form of expression, and threw a flood of light upon the case. The lawyers of the Senate—the men of acknowledged legal ability—such as Johnson, Fessenden, Trumbull, Grimes, Sherman, and others, seemed to be particularly interested, and paid the strictest attention; and there was hardly one but noted the points now and then made. Senator Howard, who has throughout the trial occupied his own seat on the outer circle of desks, on this occasion, and after Mr. Groesbeck had spoken a short time, moved nearer to him, and more than once critically examined the cases cited by the speaker.

It was manifest that the Ohio lawyer was giving the Michigan Senator some points and decisions which were either new to him or which had escaped his attention.—Mr. Sumner, too, seemed to be more interested than he has yet been, except, perhaps, since Mr. Manager Butler's opening. Senators Drake and Fowler occupied seats near the table of counsel, and listened attentively. Senator Conkling kept his seat upon the outer circle for a time, but after awhile because so much interested that he moved nearer, and occupied a seat beside Senator Johnson. The latter, as is his custom, paid the strictest attention.

Of all the Senators, he is the only one who has, throughout the trial, taken careful notes of the proceedings, and of the authorities referred to by the Managers and counsel, whether upon the admissibility of testimony or in the general discussion of the issue. Senator Chandler alone did not seem to be at all interested, for he was not in the chamber much of the time, and the argument was, therefore, utterly lost upon him.

At the close of his remarks, Mr. Groesbeck was congratulated by several of the Senators, and the Chief Justice engaged in a short conversation with him, but whether to congratulate him or not could not be determined from the galleries. One thing is certain, that Mr. Groesbeck gave the positions assumed by the Managers some ponderous blows, and utterly demolished their reasoning, and furnished much food for the serious reflection of each and every member of the High Court of Impeachment. Mr. Groesbeck is a native of the State of New York; went early in life to Cincinnati. He was a representative in the Thirty fifth Congress, and a member of the Peace Congress in 1861.

Few of the most sagacious friends of impeachment anticipate a conviction on all the articles. It is questionable whether some of them get even a majority of the Senate. The knowing ones, however, claim an almost unanimous party majority on those relating to the violation of the tenure-of-office bill, but there are a number of Senators who, remembering they are judges, strictly keep their own counsel.—Washington Express, 27th.

Our Afternoon Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON—MR. NELSON PROPERLY AFRAID TO TRUST "SPOONS."

WASHINGTON, April 29, M.

In the House, a resolution was offered to print 500 copies of each of the Southern Constitutions.

In the Court of Impeachment, Sumner moved to censure Mr. Nelson for language towards Butler likely to provoke a duel Several objections were made.

Mr Nelson produced letters, dated March 9, with Butler's and Logan's signatures, regarding Alta Vela.

Butler desired to see the letters

Mr. Nelson desired some pledge that they would be returned.

Judge Chase made some objection, when Mr. Nelson said he would prefer depositing them with the Secretary of the Senate who could show them to Butler.

Here the matter stopped and Mr. Evarts proceeded.

Hendricks moved that Nelson be allowed to read so much as would show the date and signature. Carried.

Nelson, holding his letter, faced toward the Senate, said: "Senators, will see the letter is dated March 9th, and here, attached to it, they will see the autographs of B. F. Butler and John A. Logan."

The leadership which Sumner has assumed, regarding new rules, is evidently distasteful to several Senators.

Canby telegraphs Grant that the majority in North Carolina, so far, is 13,000. 36 counties unreported.

The Reconstruction Committee met to-day, and considered the South Carolina and Arkansas Constitutions, but came to no conclusions. They meet again on Saturday.

OF THE WAR,
ITS CAUSES, CHARACTER, CONDUCT AND RESULTS.
By HON. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS.
A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL PARTIES.

THIS GREAT WORK PRESENTS THE ONLY complete and impartial analysis of the causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens, from his position as second officer of the Confederacy.

To a public that has been surfeited with APPARENTLY SIMILAR PRODUCTIONS, we promise a change of fare both agreeable and salutary and an intellectual treat of the highest order. The Great American War has AT LAST found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire everywhere manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever published

THE CAPTAIN'S HONOR.

A LEGEND OF THE NAVY.

BY ALFRED TENNYSON.

He that only rules by terror
Doeth grievous wrong,
Deep as hell I count his error,
Let him hear my song.

Brave the Captain was; the seamen
Made a gallant crew—
Gallant sons of English freemen,
Sailors bold and true.
But they hated his oppression,
Stern he was and rash;
So for every light transgression
Doomed them to the lash.

Day by day more harsh and cruel
Seemed the Captain's mood;
Secret wrath like smothered fuel
Burnt in each man's blood;
Yet he hoped to purchase glory,
Hoped to make the name
Of his vessel great in story
Wheresoe'er he came.

So they passed by capes and islands,
Many a harbor-mouth,
Sailing under palmy highlands,
Far within the South.

On a day when they were going
O'er the vast expanse,
In the North, her canvas flowing,
Rose a ship of France;
Then the Captain's color heightened,
Joyful came his speech;
But a cloudy gladness lightened
In the eyes of each.
"Chase," said he; the ship flew forward,
And the wind did blow;
Stately, lightly went the Norward,
Till she neared the foe.

When they looked at him they hated
Had what they desired;
Mute with folded arms they waited—
Not a gun was fired.
But they heard the foemen's thunder
Rattling out their doom;
All the air was torn in sunder,
Crashing went the boom;
Spars were splintered, decks were shattered,
Bullets fell like rain,
Over mast and deck were scattered
Blood and brains of men.
Spars were splintered, decks were broken,
Every mother's son—
Down they dropt—no word was spoken—
Each beside his gun.

On the decks, as they were lying,
Were their faces grim;
In their blood, as they lay dying,
Did they smile on him.
Those on whom he had reliance
For his noble name
With one smile of grim defiance
Sold him unto shame.
Shame and wrath his heart confounded,
Pale he turned and red,
Till himself was deadly wounded,
Falling on the dead.

Dismal error! fearful slaughter!
Years have wandered by—
Side by side beneath the water
Crew and Captain lie;
There the sea-lit ocean tosses
O'er them mouldering,
And the lonely seabird crosses
With one waft of wing.

UNITED STATES IN PROPHECY—PRESIDENT LINCOLN'S DEATH FORETOLD IN 1862—A CIVIL WAR PREDICTED IN THE NORTH—AN INTERESTING PAPER.

To the Editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal:

My attention having been called to the prophecy of the late Rev. Dr. Baldwin, to the effect that another war will occur in America very soon, I was induced to hunt up and look over some old manuscripts I wrote in 1862 and '63, as an exposition of certain prophecies which I thought referred to our American conflict, at the time existing. I have two manuscripts—one written in 1862, the other in February 1863. They were laid aside years ago to be tested, and proven true or false by the events of the future.

The following passages, numbered and included within quotation marks, are taken verbatim from the original manuscripts:

1. "Memphis to be a burial place for Western soldiers."

That has been fulfilled. There is at Memphis a national cemetery, where the Western Union dead, gathered from the Mississippi valley, have been interred.

2. "The Presidential chair is to be vacated by Mr. Lincoln." * * * "He will some morning be suddenly cut off, whether by violence, disease or otherwise, is not intimated. The occurrence of the event only can explain the manner of his removal from his position of trust and responsibility."

Mr. Lincoln was shot in the night, but died or was "cut off" in the morning at 7½ o'clock.

3. "The South is to be brought to the verge of ruin, and to be saved by a special interposition of Providence, independent of military power." * * * "Just when abolitionism has, in fancy, its triumph complete, God interposes as the deliverer of the South, and saves them by his own agency."

4. "A civil war is to rage in the North in which the abolitionists are to suffer a bloody discomfiture; the abolitionist clergy coming in for their share of the 'bloody baptism.' Many abolitionists are to be slain, while those who are so fortunate as to escape from the country are to be wanderers in foreign lands."

5. "Washington City is to be the theater of a bloody drama. Among the victims of its bloody violence women and children are numbered."

6. "Abolitionists who escape the perils that beset them, and remain in the country, are to renounce their heresy, turn to God for mercy, be forgiven, and thenceforth bring forth the fruits of repentance."

7. "The reconstruction of the Union: To be effected by a compromise between the South and the Conservatives of the North. * * It must be confessed that at the present writing there is but little prospect of compromise or union. But all things are possible with God. * * * The union is to be effected not by military power, but by a positive interposition of Providence, turning the hearts of the now belligerent sections to peace and union."

8. "The whole people then uniting in the election of a President."

9. "The surviving people of both sections, chastened by the trials and perils through which they will have passed, will be fits subject for religious influences. The days of political and abolition preaching will be ended, and a season of more than ordinary religious interest will ensue."

The writer makes no pretensions to the "gift of prophecy," but his attention being attracted during the war to certain prophecies of the Old Testament which seemed to refer to our American conflict, he wrote expositions thereon for his own entertainment. The extracts therefrom, quoted above, are the briefest possible outline of those expositions. Some of the predictions, it is seen, have been fulfilled, and the signs are ominous of the fulfillment of others. Whether the unaccomplished predictions will be fulfilled or not the future must determine.

April, 1868. HOSEA.

[We publish the above, simply to gratify the taste of those who admire the curious and the speculative. The occurrences of the last seven years have a deep, but yet hidden, meaning from us, which time will develope. The future is concealed from us, and we can but hope and trust.]

GENERAL REMARKS.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately upon any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B., except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.

Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.

It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whom it is made, may stamp it before it is used; and, if used after the 30th of July, 1864, and used without a stamp, it cannot afterwards be effectually stamped. Any failure upon the part of the maker of an instrument, to appropriately stamp it, renders him liable to a penalty of two hundred dollars.

Suits are commenced in many States by other process than writ, viz: summons, warrants, publication, &c., in which case these, as the original process, severally require stamps.

Writs of scire facias are subject to stamp duty as original process.

The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a Justice of the Peace, Notary Public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and is subject to a stamp duty of five cents, except when taken in suits of legal proceedings.

Certificates of loan in which there shall appear any printed or written evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand or at any time designated, are subject to stamp duty as Promissory Notes.

The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage, at time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps, denoting a duty of five cents.

When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamps to which this instrument is liable, under the law, may be affixed and cancelled by one of the parties.

In conveyance of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.

No stamp is required on warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note, when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps denoting the duty required and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required on such papers, such stamp duty being the highest rates required for such instruments, or either of them In such case a note of memorandum of the value or denomination of the stamp affixed should be made upon the margin or in the acknowledgment of the instrument which is not stamped.

NEW ARRANGEMENT

FOR THE

SENTINEL.

Published in the City of Raleigh, N. C.,

Daily, Semi Weekly and Weekly.

William E. Pell, } Editors.
Seaton Gales, }

In view of the scarcity of money, and the severity of the times, the Proprietor of the SENTINEL has determined to reduce the terms of the paper, to commence after the 31st. DECEMBER, next, and to make such improvements in its general character as will commend it to the patronage of an enlightened
